

SPANISH PLAY

Produced by Birches Head Church Amateur Society. The theatrical society of St. Matthew's Church, Birches Head, is presenting this week a Spanish play entitled "A Hundred Years Ago," adapted by Helen and Harry Gray with the Baker.

The society has set a high standard in its choice of material, and the present play is no exception. It demands of its players a deep appreciation of character as well as considerable interpretative aptitude in scenes where action is scarce.

The play was given a pleasing first performance, and will be repeated to-night, whose taking part are Mrs. P. Powell, Misses E. Pickin, E. Slater, D. M. Hand, G. Picin, and G. Lees. and Messrs. G. Cooke, S. F. Hand, W. Evans, L. H. Sherwood, and J. Keiser.

The musical part of the performance was in the hands of Mr. W. Evans and Misses B. E. Meakin, R. Bullock, E. Harrison, A. Lovell, V. Jones, Kirkham and D. Phillips. Musical interludes were rendered during the evening by Mrs. A. Crowley and Mr. C. Conpack.

The stage settings, which were a fine feature of the production, were designed and executed by Father H. Coley. Mr. Sidney F. Hand deserves a great credit for his work as producer, assisted by a willing staff of stage hands.

Stoke City players left the Potteries this afternoon on their journey to the North East in quest of Cup distinction when they embarked at Stoke for Saltburn, preparatory to their fourth round tie with Middlesbrough on Saturday.

Harry Davies, recovered from influenza, will be back in the team with his return, the side selected for Saturday contains further forward changes, Mason and Ware remaining their old positions of centre-forward and inside-right respectively.

The attack will therefore consist of what has been the regular line—the one that was so successful in the early part of the season. The team, therefore, will be: John Spencer, Beacall; Buller, Turner, Sellers; Lidde, Walker, Mason, Davies, Johnson.

In charge of the team is Mr. A. C. Stokely, Chairman of the Club. It is probable that the team will play three or four times during the season, but will be brought on Saturday morning.

Everywhere followers of the club are saying that the team is capable of winning a match, "off their own bat," but Stoke's half-backs are being urged to play a more aggressive game, and to return to the old formation, as all his best displays this season have been made from home he may rise to the occasion.

In connection with Saturday's League game, the matter of the Stoke City team playing a League match, might well be to play a Second Division, for if Bradford City were to return to the First Division, Stoke's goal average would be as affected as the Stoke City team, which has been playing in the Second Division since the war.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

NO SIGN YET OF BRITAIN'S COLD WAVE ABATING

ALL EUROPE IN GRIP OF THE FROST

WINTER GAMES GETTING INTO FULL SWING

CREWE WATER MAINS BURST

Continuing cold and dry. No indication is given in to-day's forecast by the weather experts of a break in the great cold wave which holds Britain and most of the Continent in its grip.

Britain has not had a colder day than yesterday since the great frost of 1929, and to-day most parts of the country were again swept by icy north-easterly winds, with temperatures below freezing point.

Winter sports enthusiasts are taking full advantage of the conditions, and skating is enjoyed by hundreds at Nantwich and Crewe last evening.

Winter sports are in full swing at Leek and on the surrounding moorland, but neither Trentham nor Rudyard lakes are yet fit for skating.

Householders in three Crewe streets were without water for some hours this morning, owing to the bursting of mains, due to the frost, during the night.

FRACTURED MAIN AT FENTON

Residents' Unfortunate Experience

Owing to the frost, a three-inch gas main in Fenton, was fractured last night, and two people were affected, namely:—

Mrs. Betty Ann Grocott, aged 28, of 23, Eglintown-street, and Mrs. Tracy Wyal, aged 22, of 20, Eglintown-street.

Both received medical attention and had recovered this morning.

The police inspected the main and found a fracture of the forefinger of the right hand.

In addition, an eleven-year-old boy sustained head injuries when he was involved in a collision with a bicycle while skating.

DOCTOR DEAD ON CLIFF

It is decided to-day that no inquest will be held on the death of Dr. A. G. H. Stokely, who died on the cliff at Goothen Bay, Hastings, last night.

The doctor was found to have succumbed to cold while walking in the park.

ON THE ICE "IN HIS HOME"

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

SLIDING ACCIDENTS

Well-known Leek Sportsman Injured

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

PARIS MINIMUM TEMPERATURE DOWN TO 14 DEGREES

Conditions are now positively arctic, the minimum temperature for the capital being 14 degrees Fahrenheit. Skaters have been over the ice for several days.

PARLIAMENT SNOWBOUND

Railway traffic in Romania practically at a standstill owing to the snow.

BOMBAY'S "COLD WAVE"

Thick wet suits and overalls are being restricted out of almost forgotten trunks by the cold wave which has descended on Bombay.

WOMAN'S ALLEGATIONS OF HYPNOTISM DISPROVED

On the ground that there was no evidence against the defendants, a libel action brought by Mrs. Justice Avey and a special jury in the King's Bench Division to-day, brought by Miss Helen Spence, of Raglan Hotel, Upper Bedford-place, London, against six defendants who were the Chairman and members of the Board of Directors of the Third Church of Christ Scientist, London, resulted in a verdict for the defendants, who had pleaded justification.

PLAINTIFFS' ALLEGATIONS

She became a member of the church in January, 1923, and in April, 1929, she obtained information bearing on certain mental cases which had been treated by practitioners in the church, but which had not been revealed to her. She then brought an action against the church, claiming that she had been treated by hypnotism, which had been described as the modern form of witchcraft.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

BURSLEM CLUB'S POLICE TRIBUTES

AT FUNERAL

Constable J. J. Hallam of Smallthorne

Police officers from all divisions in the City were present at the funeral yesterday afternoon of Police-constable J. J. Hallam, a popular member of the Stoke-on-Trent Constabulary, stationed at Smallthorne, who died on pneumonia last week-end.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

POTTERY IMPORT DUTIES

Decision Expected "In Near Future"

It is now expected that the Import Duties Advisory Committee will give their decision "in the near future" on the application made by the British Pottery Manufacturers' Federation for increased import duties on pottery.

Mr. H. K. Hales, M.P. for Henley, has received the following letter in reply to representations he has made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer:

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

Treasury Chambers, 18th January, 1933.

Dear Mr. Hales:—I have received your letter of the 14th January about the duty on imported pottery. I am informed that the committee have taken into consideration the representations made to them, but have not yet given a final decision. I am sorry that the effect of the present duty is to be increased, but rather than the duty to become clearly apparent, and that the duty to be increased, I cannot press this matter to the Committee at an early date, though I am of course not in a position to anticipate what the result will be.

IMPORTANT COURT DECISION

STOKE CITY LEAVE FOR NORTH-EAST

May Affect Future Cup Training at Saltburn

DAVIES BACK IN TEAM

The Stoke City players left the Potteries this afternoon on their journey to the North East in quest of Cup distinction when they embarked at Stoke for Saltburn, preparatory to their fourth round tie with Middlesbrough on Saturday.

Harry Davies, recovered from influenza, will be back in the team with his return, the side selected for Saturday contains further forward changes, Mason and Ware remaining their old positions of centre-forward and inside-right respectively.

The attack will therefore consist of what has been the regular line—the one that was so successful in the early part of the season. The team, therefore, will be: John Spencer, Beacall; Buller, Turner, Sellers; Lidde, Walker, Mason, Davies, Johnson.

In charge of the team is Mr. A. C. Stokely, Chairman of the Club. It is probable that the team will play three or four times during the season, but will be brought on Saturday morning.

Everywhere followers of the club are saying that the team is capable of winning a match, "off their own bat," but Stoke's half-backs are being urged to play a more aggressive game, and to return to the old formation, as all his best displays this season have been made from home he may rise to the occasion.

In connection with Saturday's League game, the matter of the Stoke City team playing a League match, might well be to play a Second Division, for if Bradford City were to return to the First Division, Stoke's goal average would be as affected as the Stoke City team, which has been playing in the Second Division since the war.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said that he had written to the Council and had been told that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match, but that the Stoke City team would be allowed to play a League match.

Mr. G. H. Stokely, Chairman of the Club, said